LEADERS PUSH DEFENSE FUND BILL TO VOTE

Washington, Sept. 13.—(P)—Senate leaders, for the fourth straight day, expressed confidence they will push through today a $61,163,856, $30 defense money bill. The other three days they failed, but this time they have a limit on debate to help them.

After some haggling over the time limits, Democratic leader McFarland of Arizona induced his colleagues to hold talk about each amendment to 30 minutes, and wind up debate on the bill itself to two hours.

Some restrictions were added to the big money bill yesterday. It still retained, however, a special $5,000,000,000 for added new airpower.

Besides carrying funds to build up the strength of the armed forces as a deterrent to possible Communist aggression, the measure would provide money for new secret weapons which President Truman has called "fantastic."

Outside the senate chamber, Sen. McMahon (D.-Conn.), chairman of the senate-house Atomic Energy Committee, told reporters yesterday the destructive power of America's atomic weapons now is "truly fantastic." He ducked questions on details or possible uses.

Biggest argument over the money bill came on an attempt by Senator Thye (R.-Minn.) to set up a special "watchdog committee." (Turn to Page Twelve)

Gov. Dewey Has Long Chat At White House

Washington, Sept. 13.—(P)—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, leaving a 40-minute conference with President Truman, called today for "much closer political and military alliances" among free nations in the Pacific.

The New York governor told reporters he had a "cordial" meeting with Mr. Truman and then talked exclusively about the situation in the Far East and the Pacific.

Dewey has just returned from a visit to Korea and other countries in the Orient. He went to the White House to report on that trip.

Dewey, the Republican presidential candidate in 1944 and 1948 said there was absolutely no discussion of domestic politics or Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, who he is becoming as the GOP nominee in 1952.

Plans Are Launched For Observance of Employ Physically Handicapped Week

Plans are going forward for an adequate local observance of National Employ the Physically Handicapped Week, according to Joseph D. Benson, director of veterans' affairs for Warren county, who is chairman of the Warren county committee.

At a meeting held Wednesday afternoon in the council room of the United States Employment office, 225 Pennsylvania avenue, west, Mr. Benson went over with his committee the program which will make local observance a success, and cause local employers to become conscious of what is being done.

National Employ the Physically Handicapped Week, as provided by Public Law 176 of the 77th Congress, is observed the first full week of October, but it is a year-round activity, the purposes of which are:

- (1) To promote a better understanding of the outstanding performance of physically handicapped workers when properly placed;
- (2) To promote increased employment, on a year-round basis, of handicapped workers, as well as the retention and advancement of those already employed;
- (3) To develop a better understanding by the handicapped of the help they can give.

PAINTER INJURED IN FALL FROM SCAFFOLD

Harold Mumford, of Barnes, employed by Elmer Day in painting a house in Sheffield, fell 20 feet from a scaffold this morning and suffered a fractured elbow and hip.

At the local hospital it was said that Mr. Mumford, who is 63 years old, suffered no other injuries.

DEDICATORY EXERCISES—Pupils of South Street School, under the direction of their principal, Edith Berkman, gathered on the school lawn Wednesday for a brief service which dedicated the new 30-foot flagpole received at the close of the term in June. Boy Scouts of the school were in charge, with Bruce Baldwin as announcer; James Ostergard in charge of devotions; Bruce Giunta, a talk on care of the flag; Tom Smith, thanks to Conrad Youngberg and boys of the high school shop class at the South street building, who made the new standard; Alan Buerkle, thanks to Fred Watt, janitor, who has cared for the new flag until the present. Concluding, young Buerkle led the flag salute and all sang The Star Spangled Banner. Scouts will now assume responsibility for the flag raising and lowering each day of the school week. Confirmation of Lovett as Secretary of Defense Approved by Senate Committee

Washington, Sept. 13.—(P)—The Senate Armed Services committee today unanimously approved confirmation of Robert A. Lovett as secretary of defense to succeed Gen. George C. Marshall.

The action came just 24 hours after Marshall resigned and President Truman nominated Lovett, now deputy secretary, to succeed him. The nomination now goes to the Senate where an effort probably will be made for confirmation later in the day.

Senator Flanders (R-Vt.) told newsmen of the committee's action as he left a closed meeting of the Armed Services group.

Lovett already had begun to "get on with the job" which he inherited from his longtime partner in government service.

Because the two men—the 56-year-old banker and the 70-year-old five-star soldier—had worked together so long in the Pontag and State Department, it seemed probable the policies and personnel of the vast military establishment would undergo little change.

Lovett, in talking to reporters after President Truman had announced Marshall's resignation and his nomination as the new defense chief, said the general wanted no fuss about his leaving and that "we get on with the job."

"That we will do," said Lovett as he became acting director of the government's biggest department pending expected confirmation by the senate of his nomination.

Senate leaders pushed aside routine rules in an effort to speed confirmation. Generally, both Republicans and Democrats lauded Lovett.

First Guided Missile Squadron Has a New "Pilotless Bomber Type Weapon"

Washington, Sept. 13.—(P)—The Air Force disclosed today it is forming its first guided missile squadron, equipped with a new "pilotless bomber" type of weapon apparently intended for tactical use in warfare.

An announcement said the bomber squadron is being formed at the Guided Missile Center, Cocoa, Fla., on Oct. 1 and that it "will be the first operational unit of its kind in the Air Force."

The squadron, the announcement said, will be equipped initially with the Matador, B-61 pilotless bomber, now in production by the Glenn L. Martin Co., of Baltimore, Md.

WAY CLEARED FOR REARMING OF GERMANY

Washington, Sept. 13.—(P)—The Big Three foreign ministers hoped today to wrap up by nightfall a peace "contract" proposal to bring West Germany into the western defense line.

The way was cleared last night when Secretary of State Acheson and British Foreign Secretary Herbert Morrison pledged support to the companion plan, devised by France, to make use of German troops in a European army.

Pressing for a windup of their conference without a Friday meeting, Acheson, Morrison and French Foreign Minister Robert Schuman called a morning session to iron out their remaining differences over the German issue.

The latest warning from Moscow against rearming the Germans, sounded yesterday in a Soviet note to France, was ignored.

Some details of the political settlement will be left for the Allied high commissioners to negotiate with the Bonn (Western German) government, but the outlines already have been accepted by the three powers, convinced now there is no hope at the moment of an agreement with Russia on a peace treaty for a unified Germany. Barn Near Lander Destroyed by Fire

Sparks which may have come from a stone in ensilage are believed to have caused a disastrous fire which completely destroyed a large barn belonging to Harry O. Lank, between Lander and Russell, at 4 p. m. Wednesday.

Having threshed on Tuesday, Mr. Lank and his helpers were blowing ensilage into the barn when the fire suddenly sprang up. The only solution seems to be that a stone passed through the ensilage cutter.

Mr. Lank also suffered loss of 35 tons of hay in the barn, a valuable milking machine, the ensilage cutter, and many other tools. There was no loss of livestock, the men being able to save a small calf which was in the barn when the fire started, but a fine new silo, 12 by 28 feet in size, which Mr. Lank had recently built at a cost of $900 was also destroyed.

The gross loss was estimated at about $5,000.

This is Mr. Lank's second loss on the same site, another barn having burned there nine years ago. The Lank farm is a half mile east of Lander.

Mail Truck Hits Deer on Highway

While transporting a load of mail from Jamestown to Warren, at 8:30 p. m. Wednesday, Dan Michael of Russell, struck a small deer on Route 62 near the State Hospital Farm Colony, and his Dodge truck turned over on the road.

Michael attempted to avoid striking the animal and swerved his vehicle, but the deer dashed directly in front of him. Michael was not hurt and damage to the truck was light. The mail remained intact and undamaged in the accident.

Traffic was slowed and red flares were used as a caution until the truck could be righted and removed.

Britain Is Putting Squeeze Upon Iran

London, Sept. 13.—(P)—Britain today stopped British ships from delivering any cargoes to Iran.

Board of Trade spokesman disclosed vessels carrying "certain scarce materials" to Iran have been diverted.

Breakdown of the Anglo-Iranian talks for settling the oil nationalization dispute brought about the British squeeze on Iran.

Antique Cars at Half Way Mark in Long Race

Cleveland, Sept. 13.—(P)—Two shiny green touring cars that antedate World War I rolled eastward toward Buffalo today, near the halfway mark in a race from Chicago to New York.

Jack Brause, 76, driving a 1913 Stanley Steamer, is 45 minutes behind in elapsed time since leaving Chicago. But he exuded confidence as he sipped a beer after arriving last night.

Rube De Launty is the other contestant in the race to see which was—and is—the best car. He is 70 and his "hot rod" job is a 1911 Stoddard Dayton.

Elusive Ex-Bookie Back In Hands of Brooklyn Police

New York, Sept. 13.—(P)—Gambler Harry Gross, urbane and grinning after his one-day flight from his police guard, was shuttled through legal proceedings today to put him back on tap as star graft case witness.

Brought back from New Jersey where he had spent a leisurely day at the races, he was hustled before a U. S. commissioner to answer a federal fugitive warrant issued after he disappeared.

Commissioner Martin C. Epstein dismissed the federal charge so as to return Gross to custody of the state, which has listed him as chief prosecution witness in its gambling-graft trial of 18 policemen.

The trial, still in its jury-picking stage after two days, appeared likely to collapse after Gross, ex-hoos of a multi-million dollar bookmaking empire, slipped away from guards at his Atlantic Beach, N. J., home Tuesday night.

McDonald and Gross left Atlantic City about the same time—2:15 a. m. (EST)—but in separate autos.

The district attorney arrived at his Brooklyn office at 5:15 a. m. and—tired out after two nights of hunting Gross—went to sleep.

McDonald said any possible bailing of Gross again will be up to Kings County Judge Samuel S. Leibowitz who ordered the $25,000 bail forfeited.

Gross told the FBI in Atlantic City that he had not fled to avoid testifying against 18 suspended or retired policemen accused of accepting his money to protect the $20,000,000-a-year gambling enterprise. He has told of paying $1,000,000 a year.

The former betting kingpin said he had simply strolled away from his police guard for "a walk in the sun."

Gross was arrested at the Atlantic City racetrack late yesterday as police throughout the nation were hunting him.

RETAIL FOOD PRICES SHOW AUGUST RISE

Washington, Sept. 13.—(P)—Retail food prices rose seven tenths of one per cent during August to bring the nation-wide index to 227.2 per cent of the 1935-39 average, the Bureau of Labor Statistics reported yesterday.

The new figure was one half of one per cent below the record high of 227.7 reported last July 15, and about 12 per cent above the pre-Korean level.

Book Details New Light Shed on Bible Through Modern Study and Investigation

New York, Sept. 13.—(P)—What new light has modern investigation and study shed on the Bible?

For seven years, 146 leading Protestant theologians and ministers in this country and abroad have been compiling data to answer this question.

Last night, they issued the first of a 12-volume series detailing the accumulated information. Entitled "The Interpreter's Bible," it seeks to tell all that mankind has discovered about the scriptures from ancient times to the present.

Some 200 religious leaders and educators last night attended a dinner for presentation of the initial volume. "Unquestionably this is the most important publication in the religious field for over half a century," said Dr. Halford Luccock, a top Biblical scholar, of Yale University school. "A magnificent achievement," said Methodist Bishop G. Bromley Oxnam.

"The new work," said Dr. Samuel McCrea Cavert, executive secretary of the National Council of Churches of Christ in the U. S. A., "will help keep scholarship from being sterile and preaching from being superficial."

About $1,000,000 has been poured into the job of research and assembling material.

Adequate Lighting System For Football and Baseball Is First Installation Proposed

Warren Sports Boosters met at the YMCA last night for their September meeting and enjoyed an excellent motion picture and talk by Homer J. Barr, on Intercollegiate Wrestling, and also learned many fine points of high school wrestling as Mr. Barr ultimately hopes to apply it in the local schools.

It was one of the largest and best attended meetings in many years and the officers of the local Sports Boosters are appreciative of the large turnout and the evident resurgence of interest in sports, in and about Warren.

Considerable discussion was heard as to how the Sports Boosters and local sports fans might still help in the development of War Memorial Field as a profit-making sports center and as a focal point for competition in sports by local teams as well as providing a place where high class outside attractions would be interested.

Many plans that would improve and make more useful the local field were considered and the two that found most favor with the 60 or so fans gathered at last night's meeting were the securing of an adequate lighting system for the field for football and baseball and the ultimate building of a swimming pool.

All discussions were centered around the fact that War Memorial Field is now administered by borough council and that the ultimate development and improvements must come from that body, though it was rightfully assumed that any projects undertaken by the Sports Boosters towards the improvement of the center would have the hearty approval of council as well as the public at large.

In order that an intelligent approach to the problem and an unanimity of opinion might prevail as to any recommendations or suggestions to the Council by the Sports Boosters, President Craed Erickson appointed a committee consisting of C. T. "Ted" Berdine, Meyer Kornreich and Reuben "Rabbit" Swanson to investigate the entire question of lighting and also to further an investigation as to the possibilities of securing the interest of some outside baseball club whose management might consider the field area site for the further development of professional baseball.

The possibility of introducing exhibition wrestling to Warren this winter was also discussed, both pro and con, when it was pointed out that such matches were drawing considerable interest in nearby towns. Ray J. Reed and Charles "Chuck" Tranter were appointed a committee to investigate the possibilities of this spectacle as a means of revenue for the Sports Boosters, the proceeds for which might be used to further the improvement and use of War Memorial Field.

Harold Johnson and Richard Schumacher were appointed as a committee to work with J. B. Leitch, of the local High school, towards arranging a post-season basketball game for Warren such as has been sponsored by the Sports Boosters in years past; the game to be played preferably by Warren High School Varsity and some other top-notch rival school.

Economic Controls Law Denounced by A. F. L. as Fraud on American People

Washington, Sept. 13.—(P)—The AFL today denounced the new economic controls law as "a fraud on the American people." It said the measure assures "substantially higher" prices and blocks any important price rollbacks.

The labor organization directed its sharp criticism at what President Truman has termed "the terrible Capehart amendment." It backed his request that Congress repeal the provision, and declared a proposed revamping of the section would accomplish no real good.

The AFL's views were set forth by one of its economists, Peter Henle, in a statement prepared for a senate banking subcommittee headed by Senator Robertson (D.-Va.). Henle was called as the first witness as the group started hearings on Mr. Truman's appeal for changes in the law he signed reluctantly July 31.

Robertson's subcommittee was dealing exclusively with the Capehart amendment, which the president has assailed as a price-hiking "economic booby trap."

PLAN STEEL SCRAP DRIVE

Pittsburgh, Sept. 13.—(P)—The CIO-United Steelworkers today are mapping plans for a steel scrap drive to aid the national defense program. Philip Murray, CIO-USW president, said he has mailed letters to the 2,200 USW locals informing them of the serious shortage of steel scrap and asking them to initiate a drive.

Denies Criticism of Civilian Defense

Lancaster, Sept. 13.—(P)—Dr. Richard Gerstall, state Civil Defense director, has denied the criticisms of one of his deputies who quit because, in his words, Pennsylvania has no workable plan for defense.

The state definitely "has a detailed plan for civil defense," Dr. Gerstall said at his home here last night.

His statement was in reply to allegations by Lt. Col. Baldwin Smith who resigned yesterday as director of the 16-county eastern Pennsylvania region "as a protest against lack of leadership and support at the state level."

Dr. Gerstall said Smith's allegations were false and unfounded, adding that "the state's program had been developed through four or five revisions."

It was considered possible that Ridgway was holding up the note until he receives the official Communist reaction to the note of apology for strafing Kaesong.

DECREASE IN RED STRENGTH IS INDICATED

U. S. Eighth Army Headquarters, Korea, Sept. 13.—(P)—Allied troops won another commanding mountain peak today in their roller-coaster drive to force Reds off high points in rugged east-central Korea.

The Allies gained the mountain top northeast of Kumhwa in less than three hours of fighting against only light Red resistance.

The same United Nations troops captured another peak and seven surrounding ridges in the same area Wednesday. The Reds put up a foot-by-foot defense.

An Allied officer said Thursday there was "a definite decrease of Red strength in the sector." The area is just east of the Reds' old "Iron Triangle" troop assembly area in central Korea.

Allied troops with flamethrowers and bayonets captured six vital peaks Wednesday in bitter local fights that raged east of Kumhwa to the vicinity of Kansong on the Sea of Japan coast.

The battlements in the east are roughly 25 miles north of parallel 38, old dividing line between North and South Korea. The fighting of the past few days has pushed Allied positions forward as much as three and one-half miles in some sectors.

On some of the heights, dead hard Reds were shot or burned to death in stone bunkers that sometimes had only one opening—A firing slit facing the oncoming Allies.

The fighting for the peaks erupted four days ago. On the rolling hills and plains of the western front, action was slow. Allied patrols scanned Red positions for signs of a strike from their built-up forces there.

Gen. James A. Van Fleet, Eighth Army commander, has said he does not expect a Red offensive soon but he would welcome one for the opportunity it would give his forces to destroy Red troops.

Sparkling clear weather gave Allied warplanes their best opportunity in weeks for close support of ground troops and long-range bombing forays over North Korea's rail and highway network.

BRITAIN IS BUYING GRAIN FROM RUSSIA

London, Sept. 13.—(P)—Britain announced tonight she had signed a contract to buy 1,000,000 tons of grain from Russia.

The announcement by the Food Ministry said the grains were from this year's Russian harvest and that deliveries are expected to begin shortly.

Air of Mystery Swirls Around Latest Red Note in Cease-Fire Paper Exchange

Tokyo, Sept. 13.—(P)—The Peiping radio threw out a hint tonight the price for resuming Korean truce talks would be Allied admission that all Red truce violation charges are true.

The United Nations command has rejected all of a long string of Red charges except one. It has admitted the accidental strafing of the Kaesong neutral zone Monday.

The Peiping radio quoted a Communist correspondent at Kaesong as declaring:

"The cease-fire talks could start again immediately and agreement could be reached in a short time if the Americans accepted the military realities" and took the responsibility for all the alleged neutrality violations.

The U. N. command for the moment was saying nothing. It would not even say what was in the latest Red note handed Allied liaison officers Wednesday.

The Allied officers had just handed the Reds a note apologizing for the accidental strafing of the Kaesong neutral zone by an Allied B-26 bomber on Monday.

The U. N. command has not made the Red note public, and has refused to comment on it.

The command usually releases copies of such notes as soon as they are received from UN advance headquarters at Munshan.

The Public Information Office for the headquarters of Supreme Allied Commander Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway said it has been unable to develop information on the note after several tries. A PIO spokesman said he had "no 'lea'" when the note would be released.

Speculation grew that the communication might contain a new proposal—or a fresh complaint—from the Communist high command.

It was considered possible that Ridgway was holding up the note until he receives the official Communist reaction to the note of apology for strafing Kaesong.

Daily average runs to stills during the week ended September 1 were 49,181 barrels, a decrease of 10,752 barrels daily from the August 23 runs of 59,933.

'SWAP' ITEMS SHOWN IN SCOUT'S EXHIBIT

David Glassman, who with Gilbert Sanford of Youngville, attended the World Scout Jamboree in Bad Ischl, Austria, this summer, has prepared a beautiful display of "swap" items obtained while at the jamboree. This display is shown in the Warren Bank and Trust Company window on Second avenue, and attracts much interest.

There are over 40 items in the exhibit, including a Tyrolean walking stick. The display shows the uniforms worn by American Scouts as compared to those of the British. David has all the items listed by legend so viewers can tell what they are and where they came from.

County Teachers and School Directors Hold Annual Meeting Here Next Week

Plans have been completed by L. L. Blair, county superintendent of schools, for the annual teachers' institute and Warren county school directors' convention to be held Friday of next week, September 14, in Warren High school and at the Court House.

The teachers from Warren, Warren county and Forest county will meet in joint session with the Warren county school directors at 8 a. m. in the Warren High school auditorium at which time an address, "The Curse of Communism," will be delivered by Dr. Douglas Silvertown, professor of literature at New York State University. Dr. Silvertown, who was a fighter pilot with the Royal Air Force in World War II, served as chief flying and ground instructor and as Squadron Commander in the Battle of Britain. He was born and raised in London and is a graduate of Oxford.

After Dr. Silvertown's address, the directors will adjourn to the large court room at the Court House where they will hear a review of legislation passed by the 1951

General Assembly by E. A. Quackenbush, chief of the school division, Department of Public Education, Harrisburg.

In the afternoon, the directors will hear two addresses, "Wanted—Not Mice but Men," by the Hon. Gay H. Brown, and "Conserving Our National Resources," by Richard J. Costley of Warren, supervisor of the Allegheny National Forest. Judge Brown, former justice of the New York Supreme Court, a leader in civic and church life, served seven years as chief counsel for the New York State Public Service Commission.

The teachers' institute, at the morning session, will listen to "Conducting a Workshop," by Eugene P. Bertin, assistant executive secretary, Pennsylvania State Education Association, and will then divide into group meetings to last until noon.

Lyle S. Hance, editor and co-author of arithmetic text books, will conduct a seminar for arithmetic teachers of grades 1, 2 and 3. Mildred S. Coyle of Harrisburg, school nursing advisor for the Department of Public Instruction, will meet with school nurses. Dr. Laveria L. Powers, chief of elementary education, Department of Public Information, Harrisburg, will speak on "How to Use the Social Studies Program" to her group. "Child Growth and the Implication for Teachers" is the subject of the group to be led by Miss Jeannette Molloy, assistant professor of elementary education at Penn State.

Miss Ethel McCormick, well known elementary supervisor, will be here from Altoona to speak on "Newest Practices in Reporting Pupil Progress on the Elementary and Secondary Levels" to her group. Mrs. Maritza Morgan of North Warren, prominent professional artist, will be in charge of the group which will study "Growth Through Art." Writer Suggests Organization of String Orchestra

(Note: Further information concerning the suggestions contained in the following contributed article may be had by interested persons if they will contact the editorial rooms of the Times-Mirror.)

In the "Ould Days" what are some of our most pleasant memories?

Surely some of them are memories of musical evenings.

Efforts of young amateurs to interpret the better forms, the classic and the semiclassical, in small groups where individual work is given a stimulus. Where the players are working for a common goal. To live above things in the midst of things.

Good music—the right kind—has a universal appeal in it, and a democratic spirit which every musician knows. It is a universal language.

There have been hints dropped by some of the older folks who have had musical experience, expression of a desire to form some kind of an orchestra where the best kinds of music might be played. Not for any particular goal, but just for the simple enjoyment of getting together to express our higher natures, giving us an uplift to keep on the right side of life.

Perhaps a small string orchestra to begin with might be formed as an experiment to prove interest of the players and their loyalty to an organization of this kind.

It seems the time is ripe for an orchestra of this kind. We have had bands and bands, but for those older players who prefer the strings there should be some sort of outlet for this kind of musical expression.

For those who are in the prime of life, who have the hunger, the urge, and the energy to play, why not get together and start something worth while?

Twice a month in rehearsal should be enough to keep up the interest and give time for practice in between. Too much of any good thing is bad.

Of course it will be desirable to have musicians of some experience at first. Folks who have emotional response to this kind of art. Also people who have enough respect for the composer that when they see a pianissimo mark they will play very softly, where they see a crescendo mark they will gradually increase their tone, and when they play forte they will not bring down the ceiling. People who have a sufficiently good ear to play in tune and know when they are in tune. This all improves with practice.

We have access to the musical library of the old Presbyterian orchestra. We have access also to a private library of good overtures. What is needed is a musical librarian who can keep absolute track of all music borrowed, so that nothing is lost.

We have the privilege of the use of the large Sunday School room in the Parish house of the Episcopal church, in which there is a piano.

So the expense for music and a place to play will not be large to start with. Every musician surely has a music rack. But there is a supply that can be had.

So this is an appeal to you string musicians whether you play a violin, a viola, a cello, a harp or the piano to get together for this orchestral form of music in contrast to the band. Amateur musicians in middle life and those

PRICE OF PUBLIC GLORY

Gen. George C. Marshall, who retired yesterday as Secretary of Defense, is a towering example of what a man must be prepared to face if he accepts high government office in these times, says James Marlow, Associated Press feature writer in his column, "The World Today."

There are, of course, some other distinguished examples of this: Dean Acheson, still secretary of state; and Louis Johnson and James Forrestal, both of whom were secretary of defense.

After a long and brilliant military career, Marshall held the two most important jobs in the president's cabinet: Secretary of State and Secretary of Defense. Altogether, he has served the country half a century.

He resigned as Secretary of State in 1949—Acheson succeeded him—and went into retirement. He was called back by President Truman one year ago yesterday, Sept. 12, 1950, to succeed Johnson as Secretary of Defense.

And one year ago today Marlow, reviewing Marshall's career, noted that he and Acheson together had helped shape our policy towards China which the Communists eventually took over.

And in that review a question was raised in the following two paragraphs, a question which was answered in the next 12 months:

"For many months now, with the Communists in control of China, Acheson has been condemned by the Republicans for our China policy. Senator McCarthy, Wisconsin Republican, even called him the 'Red Dean.'"

"It seems unlikely that anyone would dare try to put any Red labels on Marshall but — — — Now we'll have to see whether Marshall is going to be criticised along with Acheson on the China policy."

Marshall got some criticism from the start, and more later, but no one went so far as McCarthy who—in a 60,000-word senate speech on June 15, 1951—called Marshall not only a liar but a "mysterious, powerful" figure in a "great conspiracy" to deliver this country to Communism.

Marshall didn't answer this attack which was pretty widely ignored by Democrats and Republicans alike. But Acheson as Secretary of State holds the modern long-range record for criticism while holding high government office.

Acheson, like Marshall, has had practically nothing to say about the attacks on him. But in the past two years his hair has turned white. This may be due to worry about his heavy responsibilities, inner grief because of attacks on him, or simply because he was growing older.

Louis Johnson, who followed Forrestal as Secretary of Defense in 1949 but was replaced by Marshall last September, at the president's request, took a broad critical beating, particularly after the Korean war started and this country discovered how unprepared it was for war.

But Forrestal was the truly tragic figure. He quit a $180,000 a year Wall Street job in 1940 to work for the government at $10,000. He was made the first Secretary of Defense in 1947. He had a tough job of trying to unify the armed forces. Criticism of him piled up. He resigned in March, 1949, and two months later died in a plunge from a hospital window. Doctors said he was despondent.

EXTREMISM SOLVES NO PROBLEMS

The ultimatum is not a device calculated to smooth the progress of diplomatic discussion. Britain undoubtedly made a mistake when its representative at the recent Iranian oil talks handed an "or else" statement to Premier Mossadegh.

Mossadegh now has chosen to compound the error by issuing an ultimatum to Britain to resume talks within two weeks or get your technicians out of the oil refinery at Abadan.

There's no question that Mossadegh, irked by Britain's ultimatum and driven by his country's extremists, felt it necessary to be utterly unbending in attitude. But when he broke off the talks he found he had gone too far. Many members of the Iranian parliament did not support that move.

Nor do they support his current ultimatum. Unable to win approval of the lower chamber, Mossadegh has insisted upon flinging the gauntlet to Britain anyway.

What is needed is a less stiff-backed manner on Britain's part, and an Iranian team on the other side which is not goaded by fear of assassination into wild, unreasoning extremism.

Sound and Fury

Here And There

"I'm surprised that some person hasn't sent in the name of Henry Anderson, former High School athlete, and business manager of the Erie Sailors of the Mid-Atlantic Baseball League, as a nominee for Warren's outstanding athlete," remarked a well known sports booster who dropped into the office for a chat Wednesday afternoon. "If his name fails to come in from other channels, just enter it for me. I'm sure he'll have a lot of votes when it comes time to count the ballots." He recalled that "Hemie" played football, baseball and basketball with equal ability, and should be considered any time that leading Blue and White athletes are discussed.

And that reminds us, nominations for the outstanding Warren athlete will be received until the first of the week when it is proposed to print a ballot containing the names of the nominees, to enable readers to vote for their favorite. A trophy to be given the winner by the Times-Mirror and Warner Brothers theater has arrived in Warren and will be suitably inscribed before it is formally presented.

Containing the name of the winner it will be inscribed as follows: "Times-Mirror and Warner Bros. Jim Thorpe All-American Trophy for outstanding athletic and scholastic accomplishments."

Down through the years there have been many outstanding athletes who defended the honors of Warren on the baseball diamond, the basketball court, the football gridiron, the boxing ring, tennis court, etc., and many will always have their individual opinion as to who rates the honor of being chosen as the leader. It is not the purpose through this contest to decide such a momentous question. It is merely proposed to award to the person receiving the highest number of votes, among those nominated, a suitable trophy in recognition of the honor shown him by fellow citizens and readers of the Times-Mirror.

This 'n' That: Tip to color photography enthusiasts: Don't miss the all-girl Heather Highlanders Bagpipe Band of Youngstown, O., which will present several drills Sunday afternoon at Wilder Field as a feature of the Warren Field and Stream Club's annual Field Days. . . . And we might add, there'll be plenty of color around the annual Community Fair opening today at Sugar Grove and continuing through Saturday. . . .

Warren banks will be well represented at the annual fall meeting of Group Seven, Pennsylvania Bankers Association to be held at the K. of C. hall in Oil City October 13; nine counties comprise the group, including McKean, Cameron, Crawford, Elk, Erie, Forest, Mercer, Venango and Warren. . . .

See where the Star Five bowling team, former Bradford city champions, have signed our old High School athlete Harry Lord, to replace Harry Feidt, lefthander who is undergoing a back operation and may miss the entire season. . . .

Because of continued rise in the cost of living employees of Oil City presented a petition for a substantial increase in salaries and wages effective January first, to the City Council Monday. . . .

Corry school teachers are assured of at least a $300 yearly pay increase, as a result of action taken by the directors at the September meeting. . . .

Another large delegation of Dragons on sports followers will be on the sidelines when the Blue and White gridders take the field against Franklin High at the Nursery Seat tomorrow evening.

Acheson to Find Turn of Back May Earn Respect of Rivals

BY PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

SAN FRANCISCO (NEA)—Secretary of State Dean Acheson probably did himself a lot of personal good at the Japanese peace conference in San Francisco. When the man who would not turn his back on Alger Hiss did turn his back on Polish Deputy Foreign Minister Stefan Wierbowski, refusing to recognize the Pole for further propagandizing from the rostrum, many of Secretary Acheson's former critics were ready to forgive him a lot. Some newspapers that have been most bitter about Acheson admitted in headlines that the Secretary of State "stole the show." This was for the manner in which Acheson, as temporary chairman, rammed through acceptance of conference rules of procedure. Republican Sen. Alexander Wiley of Wisconsin, who has been a leading critic of Acheson's, praised him in a "Reporters Roundup" radio interview. And even Democratic Sen. Pat McCarran of Nevada, who has condemned many a State Department program, gave Acheson grudging tribute. "Even if they do get rid of him as Secretary of State, he won't have any trouble finding another job," said McCarran. "He can always get work running a steam roller."

House Foreign Affairs Committee James P. Richards had a unique tribute to pay Polish Minister Wierbowski. "If the State Department wanted to take $2500 of its secret funds, and pay them to that Pole for helping us secure ratification of the Jap treaty, I'm sure Congress would approve the expenditure," Richards confided to his associates. What he meant, of course, was that Wierbowski's typical Communist agitator's technique had angered many of the delegates. Representatives of some countries that had been wavering on whether to sign the treaty or not to sign it were won over by the belligerency of Wierbowski and Russian Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko. "Undoubtedly they caused Cuba's Minister of State Oscar Gans to move for earlier closing of debate. This hasn't been planned at all. But it is proof of one point Communist agitators never seem to learn. By their own tactics, they make more enemies than friends."

NOT only Secretary Acheson, but the State Department as a whole did itself a lot of good by inviting to San Francisco—all expenses paid—some 15 key members of the Senate and House. The way it worked out, there were more former critics of the State Department in San Francisco than friends. In addition to Senators Wiley and McCarran, Senators Smith of New Jersey, Hickenlooper of Iowa and Bridges of New Hampshire were on hand. All this is expected to pay off handsomely when the Japanese treaty comes up for Senate ratification. It was a fine example of how bipartisan foreign policy should be made to work.

Deputy Undersecretary of State Carlisle Humelsine got the surprise of his life at the huge reception which the American government gave on the opening night of the conference, after President Truman's speech. Seventeen hundred guests were invited. There was a big long bar and an elaborate buffet supper. In Washington, Secretary Humelsine would have had to pay $10 a plate for this colation. In San Francisco, the price was $4.

The perfection of detailed planning that permitted adoption of the Japanese peace treaty with so little lost motion was in a way a matter of simple revenge. At the Danube River conference several years ago, the Communists' countries had the majority and they voted things through to suit themselves. At San Francisco, the Allies had the votes.

Letter From Soldier in Korea Leads To Plan For Placing of Pennsylvania Flag Beside Old Glory in Court Room

Decision of the Warren County Commissioners to purchase a Pennsylvania state flag for the large Court Room, to flank the national flag already there, stems from a letter received by the commissioners from a former Warren county boy now serving with the U. S. Army in Korea.

"I am a G. I. in Korea and a native of Youngville, Warren county," wrote Pfc. William La Carmen to the Commissioners. "I would like to know if you or someone could send me a State Flag."

"You see, I am a half track (Army small truck) driver and there are several other tracks that have state flags (mostly Texas). I have not see one from Pennsylvania yet, and I think it is a pretty good state."

"I surely would appreciate it if you could help me out."

The letter was turned over by the Commissioners to Representative Allen M. Gibson, of Sheffield, who sent the flag to Pfc. La Carmen as he had requested.

Impetus thus provided by the soldier in far-off Korea, it was decided that an appropriate gesture during Pennsylvania Week, which is from October 15 to 21, would be installation of a Pennsylvania flag in the Court Room. Members of the Warren Junior Chamber of Commerce have agreed to handle the presentation ceremonies.

The Times-Mirror had hoped to have a picture of Pfc. La Carmen and some information about his family, but is informed that the La Carmens left the vicinity some time ago, and there are few in Youngville who knew them.

August Shows Drop In Employment of 1% in This County

A decline of 1 per cent in employment during August was reported by those Warren county firms supplying data to the Pennsylvania State Employment Service. David W. Levine, manager of the local office, stated that there were 89 fewer persons on the payrolls of the 49 establishments. The majority of the loss occurred in manufacturing which now has 57 fewer workers.

Mr. Levine observed that, despite last month's dip in job totals, there are nearly 10 per cent more employees on the rosters of the firms included in this survey than during April, 1950. More than one-half of the increment during the twelve-month period were women.

During the last week in August, 90 persons filed claims for Unemployment Compensation benefits which figure is practically identical with that reported four weeks ago. Mr. Levine stated that the corresponding totals for 1949 and 1950 were 795 and 228, respectively.

The local employment official estimated unemployment for Warren county at 300, or 2 1/4 per cent of the labor force. About one-half of the jobless are actively seeking work through the Employment Service.

Hobby of Warren Oil Salesman Is Described by Story in Ethyl News

An interesting story about the hobby of Ernest Miller of Warren, salesman for the West Penn Oil Co., appears in this month's issue of the Ethyl News, published by the Ethyl Corp., and is reviewed by the Oil City Derrick as follows:

Some of Miller's 2,000 items, which he has collected during the past 15 years, are pictured in the magazine. They include books, maps, letters, pictures and other historical material dealing with the oil industry.

His collection is believed to be the largest private one of its kind in the country. Valued at several thousand dollars, it has made an unusual hobby for Miller.

For several years Miller searched in vain for "The History of Pithole." This was the only book printed in that fabulous western Pennsylvania town that sprang from cow pastures, mushroomed to a community of 15,000, and then disappeared completely, all in a brief space of two years back in the 1860s. All copies of the book seem to have disappeared from the face of the earth. Then, one day he sauntered into an out-of-the-way antique shop and found not one but two copies standing side by side on a shelf.

Part of the value of the Miller collection can be attributed to the variety of its material. For instance, the personal feelings of early oil speculators, not easily discernible in standard industry histories, come to light in a perusal of some of the collection's letters. Written to families and friends back home, they reflect something of the hardships and heartaches early oil prospectors endured in their quest for black gold.

One of the letters told the experiences of Captain Daniel Jones. Writing from Rouseville, three miles from Oil City, on a Sunday afternoon in April, 1855, Jones sorrowfully informed his wife back in Boston that his well "pumped water for a little while, then gassed very strong. Shortly after, it threw up oil and mud about ten feet and then came clear oil. But after pumping two or three barrels, it stopped short and we have not been able to get anything out of it since."

After reporting this dishearten-

SPEAKER—The Rev. E. E. Grosse, superintendent of the Washington and Philadelphia Districts, Church of the Nazarene, will be the principal speaker for the Warren County Holiness Association Convention to be held September 17-23. Week night services will be held Monday through Saturday, at 7:30 o'clock, in First Pilgrim Holiness church, Fourth avenue, and services on Sunday, the 23rd, will be in the Church of the Nazarene at 2:30 and 7:30 p. m.

ing turn of events, the letter goes on to relate the type of thing that kept Jones and other speculators optimistic.

"Just think," he wrote, "Dr. Egbert, who owns half with me, sold 1/12 of a well 18 rods away for $300,000."

A pile of musty old papers in a little secondhand store in an obscure Maine town was the hiding place in which Miller found the collector's item that started him saving historical oil pieces. Relatively new in the industry then, Miller nevertheless had a consuming interest in anything to do with petroleum. This he came by naturally, since his father is a lifelong oilman, just as were his two grandfathers.

A special representative in New England for the Pennsylvania Grade Crude Oil Association at the time, Miller frequently found himself alone in unfamiliar towns with time on his hands. Not one to waste an opportunity like this, he took to frequenting book stores, secondhand shops and country auctioning around this particular Maine store one day, he unearthed a valued 80-year-old oil company stock certificate. One of many such items in his collection now, that early discovery had Miller jumping with joy. It was a certificate for three shares of stock in the Pennsylvania Rock Oil Co., the firm that commissioned Colonel Drake to drill for oil. The certificate, dated Dec. 22, 1855, reportedly is the only one to have survived the 95 years.

Thirty-nine-year-old Miller has devoted countless spare-time hours to traveling and letter-writing in quest of worthwhile mementos of the early days of oil.

Foreign screenings account for about 38 per cent of the profits of the U. S. movie industry, according to the U. S. Commerce department.

Mr. and Mrs. George Peterson Greet More Than 140 Guests for Open House

Mr. and Mrs. George Peterson, married on September 12, 1901, received more than 140 guests at their home in Youngville Sunday in celebration of their golden wedding day.

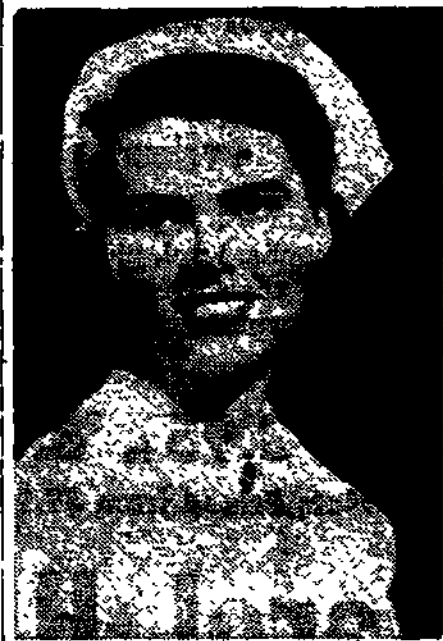

Guests were greeted at the door by Elmer Peterson, only son of the couple, who invited them to sign a lovely Golden Wedding Book. The bride of 50 years wore a corsage of golden roses and Mr. Peterson had a boutonniere of the same. The golden color scheme was carried out in baskets and vases of beautiful flowers arranged about the home and was repeated many times in table appointments. Golden candles shone on an exquisite four-tiered cake served by Miss Lillian Swanson. The fine white damask cloth on the table was one presented to Mrs. Peterson's mother, Mrs. A. A. Lawson, on her golden wedding day. Flanking were Mrs. Corrine Riegg, Chicago, and Mrs. Hazel Brookway, cousins of the bride, with several Lutheran church women as aides.

Among those present were 19 guests who attended the wedding 50 years ago, recalling that Sunday's beautiful weather was in sharp contrast to the wedding day, when it was very rainy and guests were obliged to have side curtains and rubber lap robes in their bugies. The Petersons went to the Pan American Exposition at Buffalo for their wedding trip and were there when President McKinley died September 14.

Many and varied were the beautiful gifts which the couple received and if all good wishes might come true, they will be celebrating a diamond anniversary in 1976. In addition to many from Youngville, there were guests from Chicago, Erie, Corry, Jamestown, Buffalo, Sharon, Mt. Jewett, Russell, Sugar Grove and Warren.

IRVINE WBS MEETING
Irvine, Sept. 12—Ten members attended the regular meeting of the Methodist WBS, held at the home of Mrs. Ray Ongley. Mrs. Olson, the president, conducted the devotion and business session and Mrs. Wing was in charge of the program. Several members gave readings, Mrs. Ongley sang "It Is No Secret," and a duet, "Constantly Abiding," was sung by Mrs. Nulph and Mrs. Dolphin. To conclude, a silver offering was taken and refreshments were served by the hostess. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. James Dolphin, Jr., on October 4th.

ENGAGED—Mrs. Mary Foley, 409 Poplar street, announces the engagement of her daughter, Sallie Mooney, to Daniel C. Carnevali, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel C. Carnevali, Erie. Sallie was graduated Tuesday from St. Vincent's Hospital School of Nursing in Erie. Mr. Carnevali attended Gannon College and was graduated from University of Buffalo last June, receiving a master's degree. He is presently attending Kansas City School of Osteopathy, Kansas City, Mo.

55TH ANNIVERSARY—Mr. and Mrs. Henry Sears, married 55 years ago, received more than 100 guests at their home Sunday to celebrate their 55th wedding anniversary. The wedding was performed in Sugar Grove on September 5, 1893, with the Rev. R. J. White officiating. Attendants, both now deceased, were Fred Hooker and Miss Viola Swartz. For seven years the couple made their home in Warren, then moved to a farm near Akeley to live for 21 years before going to Russell.

Mr. Sears, who was township supervisor for 18 years, is at present employed by the township as water system foreman. For some 20 years, Mrs. Sears has been a member of the WCTU and has served that group as treasurer. She has been presented with a certificate and pin from the national organization and a book from both the county and state units. Both Mr. and Mrs. Sears are 80-year members of Akeley Grange and have been presented with Golden Sheaf Certificates by National Grange.

The Sunday open house in their honor was arranged by their two nieces and nephew, Mrs. Kenneth Gill, Mrs. Franklin Nordland and Lewis Sears. Mrs. Sears greeted guests in a black print frock, with which she wore a corsage of white pom poms. Her flowers and a boutonniere for Mr. Sears were gifts of their great-niece and nephews. Centering the buffet table was a large three-tier wedding cake, topped with miniature bride and groom figures and served by Mrs. George Mertens and Mrs. Arthur Whitman. Presiding were Miss Alice Sears and Mrs. Milton Smith, with Miss Betty Mertens in charge of the guest book. Garden flowers throughout the home added to the festive air. The honored ones were remembered with many flowers, cards and gifts, including a purse of money.

Wed In Corning Ceremony

White gladioli and palms formed an attractive background for the wedding Sunday, August 19, of Marjorie Hamm, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Hamm, 189 Princeton avenue, Corning, N. Y., and Dale Leroy Soderberg, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Soderberg, 108 Wood street, Warren.

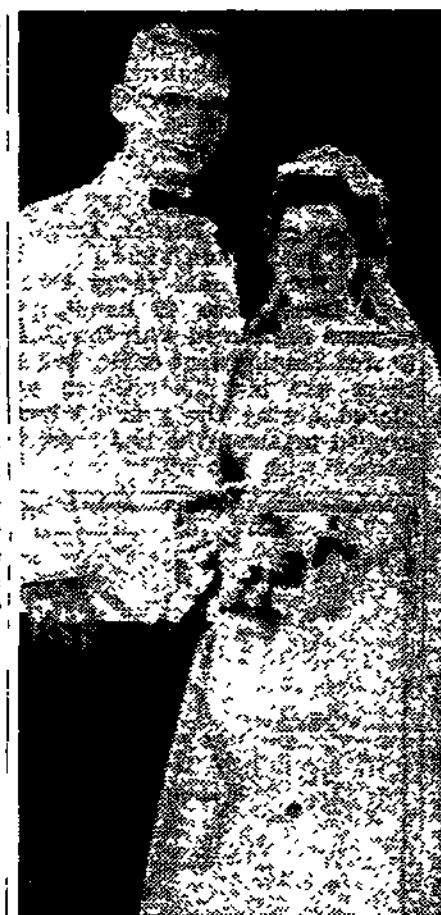

The double ring service was read in the Corning First Presbyterian church by the Rev. Paul Hazlett, Philadelphia, former pastor, and wedding music was by William Droege and Luella Blair.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white tulle and lace, fashioned with fitted bodice topped by a tiny stand-up lace collar, long sleeves trimmed with lace cuffs and tulle ruffles, and bouffant skirt of tulle ending in a cathedral train. Her full length veil was of embroidered lace and she carried a bouquet of fleur d'amour and ivy centered with an orchid.

Her twin sister and matron of honor, Mrs. Michael Mastandrea, Buffalo, wore aqua marquisette and matching picture hat and carried lavender gladioli. The bridesmaids, Elaine Dalrymple of Jamestown and Audretta Hoyt of Corning, were similarly gowned in lavender and carried yellow gladioli.

KIDNEYS MUST REMOVE EXCESS WASTE

Nagging backache, loss of pep and energy, headache and dizziness may be due to slow-down of kidney function. Doctors say good kidney function is very important to good health. When some everyday condition, such as stress and strain, causes this important function to slow down, many folks suffer nagging backache—feel miserable. Minor bladder irritations due to cold or wrong diet may cause getting up night or frequent passages. Don't neglect your kidneys if these conditions bother you. Try Doan's Pills—a mild cure. Used successfully for millions for years. Doan's give happy relief from these discomforts—help the kidneys flush out waste. Get Doan's Pills today!

ender and carried yellow gladioli. The small flower girl, Susan Mastandrea of Buffalo, wore an aqua gown and headpiece of yellow roses and carried a basket of variegated flowers.

James Farrell, Warren, was best man, and ushers were Frank Hamm, Jr., Michael Mastandrea of Buffalo, Ed Naylor of Washington, D. C., and Walter Schumann of Downingtown, Penna.

A reception for 150 guests followed in the church parlors, with Mrs. Ray Melkin of North East, aunt of the bridegroom, pouring; Jo Anne Smith, Warren, assisting.

Following a week's wedding trip to Lake Placid and Canadian points, the newlyweds are at home at 21 Steinwehr avenue, Gettysburg, where Mr. Soderberg has entered fall classes at Gettysburg Seminary. Mrs. Soderberg, graduated in 1927 from Houghton College, completed graduate work at Wheaton College in 1950 and has been employed at the Tasty Bakery in Corning. Mr. Soderberg was graduated from Gettysburg College this year and has been employed by Armour and Company. He also spent the summer as part-time announcer for Station WNAE.

The bride-elect was feted at two showers prior to the wedding, one given in Warren by Mrs. William Sheckler; the other in Corning by Mrs. Mastandrea and Miss Hoyt.

ACTIVITIES PLANNED BY STUDENT COUNCIL

Student council activities at Warren High School will begin the term with the annual Get-Acquainted Week September 18-20, during which period every student will wear a card with his name printed on it.

The program is planned to help students become better acquainted, and by that means promote a wider range of friendship in the school and give everyone a chance to know the candidates in the coming school election.

On Wednesday morning, September 19, this year's council officers, Dean Veiling, president; Charles Johnson, vice-president; Leroy Salerno, treasurer, will be installed in assembly, and the week will close with a dance in the high school gymnasium Thursday evening.

Adequate Lighting System First Installation Proposed

Dr. C. S. "Chuck" Reese was appointed chairman of the committee for the annual dinner, to be held in January, which honors lettermen and seniors of Warren High schools' major sports teams. He was authorized to select a committee of six to assist him with all plans for the dinner. It is hoped, though not yet definitely known, that "Stew" Holcomb, head football coach of Purdue University, will be the principal speaker at this dinner. Coach Holcomb has already been contacted and his acceptance is hoped for.

Ray J. Reed, reporting on membership ship, stated that nearly 1,000 membership cards had been mailed to 500 past members of the club on the plan of asking the member to send in his renewal and to secure one new member. Over 133 memberships towards 1952 have already been turned in and those persons not having sent in their membership for 1952 are reminded to return them at once.

Louis Carlson, a member of Warren's 1921 varsity football team, which will hold its 34th reunion and homecoming, on September 28-29 in connection with its Warren-Oil City game, stated that eight members of the team have assured him they will return for the homecoming events and he hopes to hear favorably from others. The high point of the reunion will be the stag smoker to be held at the Marconi Outing Club on the evening of Friday, September 28. Tickets for the smoker are on sale by a committee of Sports Boosters and it is expected that more than 100 Sports Boosters and fans will be on hand to welcome "home" the members of the 1921 football team.

William E. Rice is in charge of the evening's entertainment. Refreshments will be served. All indications point to this affair being kept to the high and pleasing level of former homecoming events which have proved one of the popular activities of the local Sports Boosters over the past five years.

Additional details of the Smoker and the Homecoming Game will be made known as plans develop and it is hoped, that in the meantime, the sale of tickets for this affair will continue at a stepped-up pace. An enjoyable evening's entertainment is assured all fans who attend the program that is being prepared.

First Guided Missile Squadron Has a New

In recent statements by President Truman and several senators regarding creation of "fantastic" new weapons.

An Air Force spokesman described the missile as being similar in appearance to the swept-wing XB-51 Martin jet fighter, but smaller.

It is powered with one jet engine. The spokesman emphasized that it is a "guided missile," not merely a drone airplane of the type used experimentally during recent years.

There is no provision for a pilot in the plane.

Economic Controls Law Denounced

The provision permits sellers to pass on to consumers virtually all cost increases which occurred between the start of the Korean war and last July 26. It applies to non-farm commodities and allows price rollbacks if they can be achieved after designated cost increases have been taken into account.

Left for consideration by the Big Three were these other issues: U. S. plans to set up military bases in Spain, Italy's plea for revision of the peace treaty which sets a 300,000-man ceiling on Italian armed forces, the threat of Red China and other Far East problems, and joint action to protect western Nationals behind the Iron Curtain in case like the imprisonment of Associated Press Correspondent William N. Oatis by Communist Czechoslovakia.

The new "contractual arrangement" to be offered Bonn is a substitute for a formal peace treaty such as was signed with Japan.

THE PERFECT SALAD FRUIT

This delicious salad fruit can be served in halves or quarters with a little lime or lemon juice, or French dressing. They can also be cut in cubes and served in a fruit salad with melon balls. Another delicious suggestion is to place thin slices of peeled avocado between sections of grapefruit and orange on crisp lettuce leaves. Serve with a fruit salad dressing. Another tasty use is to fill a half an avocado with crab-meat mixed with highly seasoned mayonnaise.

BPW Membership Planning Activities For Current Year

A good attendance marked the first fall dinner-meeting of Warren Business and Professional Women's Club, held Tuesday evening in the YWCA activities building.

A Swedish motif was carried out in table appointments, with dolls, copperware and figurines, and committee members wearing peasant aprons and caps. Membership committee members in charge were Charlotte Smith, chairman; Charlotte Stoke, Ruth Rapp and Elizabeth Van Lurane.

For the program, members greeted Mrs. H. P. Stone, who told of the work of the Warren Visiting Nursing Association, and Nurse Helen Downey, who took the group on an imaginary day's tour of calls. Concluding, Edith Erickson showed pictures taken on her summer Scandinavian trip.

A welcome was extended to several new members, Eunice Anderson, Ann Parish, Violet Lilja and Emma Christian, and one name, Mae Showers, was voted into membership.

Annual reports were read and accepted and action taken on the proposed budget for the new year. Named as delegates to attend the fall meeting of District One at Greenville October 6 were Emma Christian, Margaret Drivas and Elizabeth Brasington, with Emma Christian to appear on the program as moderator for a round table discussion on UNESCO. Members were reminded the sale of candy will be continued, proceeds to be used in the club's Cancer Society project.

Elizabeth Brasington, club president, gave a report on the District Council meeting which she attended at Oil City on September 8.

It was voted to hold a meeting of directors and officers of the club the first Tuesday of each month, the session to be held in the club's cancer room in the Warren Service Center.

Dollar and Cents Price Ceilings On Variety of Things

Dollars and cents price ceilings on a wide variety of things needed in the home are now definitely on the way, Joseph J. McBryan, regional director of the Office of Price Stabilization, reported this week.

Up to now, beef has been the only item on which OPS has fixed a "nite price ceiling. Under this type of ceiling the housewife is afforded an accurate check when she visits her butcher or supermarket, McBryan said.

Now OPS proposes to do the same thing with respect to the prices of hundreds of other things the housewife needs in her home or her husband needs at his office or his job, he pointed out.

Fixed dollars and cents ceiling are only a matter of weeks away on both pork and lamb, he said. Meanwhile, surveys by OPS representatives continue each week and bring fixed ceilings on several hundred food items closer, he added.

At the same time, OPS is hard at work on similar ceilings on clothing, shoes, appliances, household equipment, radio and television sets, and literally thousands of other manufactured items, McBryan said.

OPS is determined to make price controls as effective as possible under the present law, the OPS director emphasized. OPS believes that definite dollars and cents ceilings posted in stores and attached by labels will go a long way toward that end.

JAPAN: Rebirth of a Nation (11) (12)

Illustrated by Ralph Lane

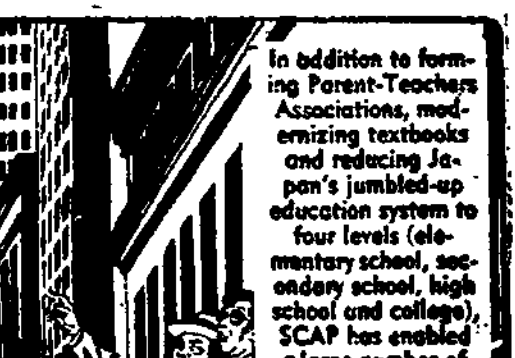

After framing civil liberties in a workable constitution, SCAP followed through with an effective one-two punch, a civil education and information program. Movies spearheaded the information campaign's war on Japan's ways of old. By 1950, audiences totalling 300,000,000 had viewed films encouraging them to meet their postwar problems squarely.

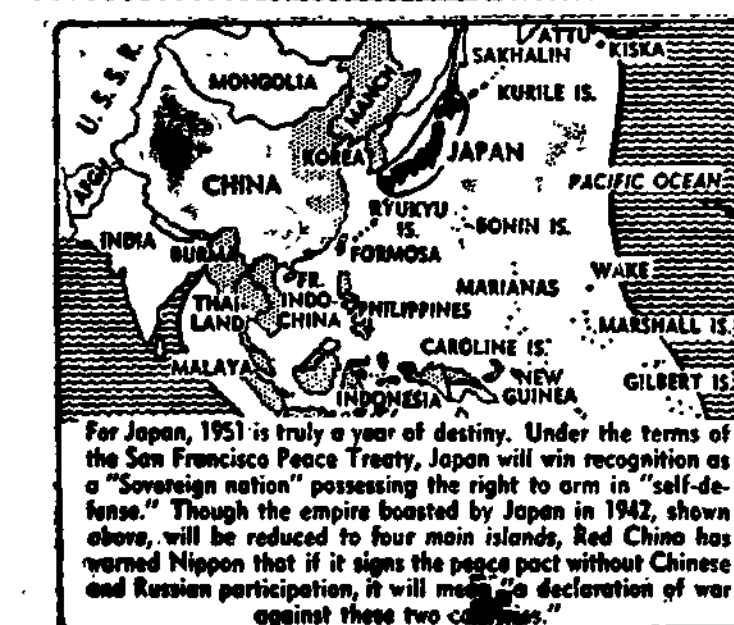

Newspapers, magazines and radio stations were freed from government control and familiarized with the responsibilities and opportunities of a free press. In 1945 there were 52 general daily newspapers; a year later, 132. SCAP guidance also resulted in adoption by the Japanese press of a code of ethics modeled after that of the American Newspaper Publishers' Association.

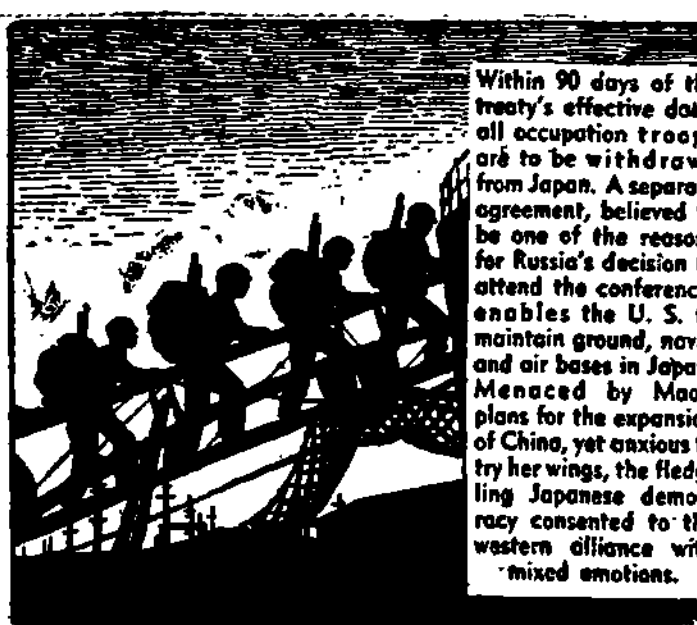

At the war's end, millions of Japanese school children received their lessons in abandoned barracks, shrines and out of doors. Though lacking funds to create adequate facilities for Japan's 19,000,000 pupils and 650,000 students, SCAP has made tremendous progress in completely reorganizing Japanese education. Aggressive nationalism has been removed from curriculums and replaced by democratic ideals and principles.

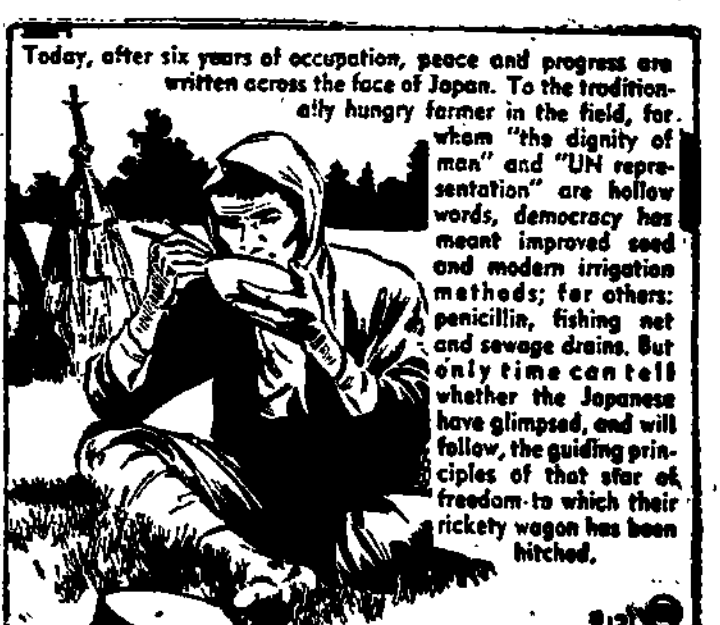

In addition to forming Parent-Teachers Associations, modernizing textbooks and reducing Japan's jumbled-up education system to four levels (elementary school, secondary school, high school and college), SCAP has enabled a large number of teachers to visit the U. S. A. and learn first hand the lesson of democracy.

For Japan, 1951 is truly a year of destiny. Under the terms of the San Francisco Peace Treaty, Japan will win recognition as a "sovereign nation" possessing the right to arm in "self-defense." Though the empire boasted by Japan in 1942, shown above, will be reduced to four main islands, Red China has warned Nippon that if it signs the peace pact without Chinese and Russian participation, it will mean "a declaration of war against these two countries."

Within 90 days of the treaty's effective date, all occupation troops are to be withdrawn from Japan. A separate agreement, believed to be one of the reasons for Russia's decision to attend the conference, enables the U. S. to maintain ground, naval and air bases in Japan. Menaced by Mao's plans for the expansion of China, yet anxious to try her wings, the fledgling Japanese democracy consented to the western alliance with "mixed emotions."

Today, after six years of occupation, peace and progress are written across the face of Japan. To the traditionally hungry farmer in the field, for whom "the dignity of man" and "UN representation" are hollow words, democracy has meant improved seed and modern irrigation methods; for others, penicillin, fishing nets and sewage drains. But only time can tell whether the Japanese have glimpsed, and will follow, the guiding principles of that star of freedom to which their rickety wagon has been hitched.

reels, the makings of their makeshift "heavy artillery". The crude weapons were fashioned from sections of tree trunks with holes drilled for muzzles, various chunks of metal and stones for charges, and set off by flash mechanisms. Recent photo at right, from a Red China source, shows a mechanized unit of the Red Army as it paraded in an undisclosed city in celebration of its 24th anniversary. (Right photo from Eastphoto via Aemie.)

Young Republicans to Attend Meeting

Mr. and Mrs. Alex Fino, Warren-Jamestown road, will represent the Warren County Young Republican Club at the Northwest Pennsylvania Convention in Sharon this Saturday. Mr. Fino is vice-president of the Warren County unit. Congressman O. K. Armstrong, Springfield, Mo., will deliver the principal address Saturday evening when more than 400 Young Republicans are expected to jam the Sharon American Legion Hall. The Missouri legislator, a self-avowed heckler of Soviet Russia, has recently returned from Korea. The convention luncheon will be held at the Shenango Inn Hotel and Congressman Carroll Kearns will be the principal speaker. Afternoon sessions concerning political activities will be in charge of Robert Kunzig of Philadelphia, state chairman of the Young Republican Federation. Next activity of the Warren County Club is the September meeting scheduled for Sheffield.

home owner and gardener. It would not be possible to have the excellent collection of hunting and fishing books which are popular in season and out. In fact, the book budget manages only to stretch over reference material, some textbooks which are necessary and a few books of general interest which are not suitable as memorials. Without the Memorial Collection, the Warren Public Library simply could not keep up with current book publishing. Here are a few of the additions to the Memorial Book Collection: For Mrs. Florence Alexander—Domination and Powers, by Santayana; American Wildlife and Plants, by Martin. For Mrs. Joseph Critelli—Lives of the Saints, by Englebert.

Gov. Fine Urges Observance of "Plant Pa. Week"

Bruno Skipano, of the Skipano Nursery Co., Eddy street, member of the Pennsylvania Nurserymen's Association, calls attention to the following statement issued by Governor John S. Fine in connection with the observance of "Plant Pennsylvania Week," September 16 to 22: "Conservation of the natural resources of the commonwealth should be of permanent concern to all the people of the state. In the conservation of our land the most important method is the planting of trees, shrubs and grasses. They serve a double purpose for they add to the attractiveness of our homes, factories, churches, schools and other public buildings, our hill-sides and highways. They provide a natural beauty, make living and working more enjoyable for all and, of tremendous importance, they protect and conserve our watersheds. "It is through the cooperation of all the people of the commonwealth that such conservation measures can be brought about, to make and keep our land planted, productive, and beautiful. If each person will plant even one appropriate tree or shrub it will achieve much toward making our state more attractive. "Therefore, I urge that the third week of September be designated and known permanently as 'Plant Pennsylvania Week,' and request that all the people, both private and public agencies, observe that week every year by planting trees, shrubs, and grasses in accordance with the need, whatever it may be, on public or private properties."

MENU SUGGESTIONS

BY GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

CORNISH pasties consist of a round pocket or triangle of flaky pastry with a flavorful meat and vegetable filling inside.

Wives of Cornish miners who came here to mine our copper in the '70's arose early in the morning and baked the pasties for their husbands to take with them to the mines. The husband stuffed the warm package inside his shirt as protection against the winter's cold.

The original pasties were filled with cooked diced pork and beef but any good chopped meat filling such as barbecued beef or cooked pork sausage meat may be used.

An adapted version of the old-time Cornish recipe, here's a suggestion for an Irish filling of corned beef and cabbage. The crisp corn meal crust is an American touch. Serve the individual meat pies on a large platter with a tart crab apple garnish. Pasties keep warm for several hours after they are baked.

Irish Pasties
(Adapted from Cornish)
(6 servings)

Filling: One medium potato, diced, 1 cup chopped cabbage, ½ cup chopped onion, 1 twelve-ounce can corned beef, chopped, 1 teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon pepper, 2 tablespoons catsup.

Cook diced potato in a small amount of water for 5 minutes.

Add cabbage and onion and continue cooking 5 minutes. Drain. Combine all ingredients for the filling thoroughly.

Dough: Two cups sifted enriched flour, ¼ cup enriched corn meal, 2 teaspoons baking powder, 2 teaspoons salt, ½ cup shortening, 1 cup milk.

For the dough sift together flour, corn meal, baking powder and salt. Cut in shortening until mixture resembles coarse crumbs. Add milk, mixing lightly only until mixture is dampened. Roll out on lightly floured board to form a rectangle 12 by 18 inches.

Cut into 6 squares; place on baking sheet. Put about 2 tablespoons of filling on each square of dough. Fold over and seal edges. Bake in a moderately hot oven (400 degrees F.) 15 to 20 minutes.

TOMORROW'S MENU

BREAKFAST: Applesauce, ready-to-eat cereal, bacon rolls, coffee, milk.

LUNCHEON: Cornish pasties, chopped green salad, stewed fresh fruit, cookies, tea, milk.

DINNER: Tomato juice, creamed tuna and peas on toast, parsley boiled potatoes, buttered carrots, whole-wheat bread, butter or fortified margarine, deep dish peach pie, hard sauce, coffee, milk.

Franklin Makes Grid Loop Debut Against Warren Dragons Friday

Franklin High football squad will be seeking its initial victory of the season, as well as its first league triumph, when they play host to the Warren High Dragons under the arc Friday night.

The Nurserymen dropped last week's curtain raiser to Hickory (Mercer) by an 18-6 decision, while Coach J. B. Leidig's Blue & White eleven came from behind in the last stanza to down the Corry Beavers 13-6 at Loveland Field.

The Dragons will play their first home game Saturday, September 22, against the Titusville Rockets.

Coach Leidig hopes to start a lineup similar to last week's, but is troubled with injuries of four starters. Ed Johnson, 219 pound mainstay in the Dragon forward wall, has a sore foot, and Dick Heggerty right end on the line has been suffering a bad knee. Both of these boys were out of action Tuesday along with reserve Art O'Conner.

Veterans George Scalise and Dean Vesling have had their practice limited somewhat, with Scalise the victim of a charleyhorse, while Vesling had four stitches taken in his head Monday.

In the backfield, Scalise, quarterback; Vesling, left half; and Toby Shea, fullback, all returnees; and Ed Frontera, right half.

Capable reserves for the Dragon lineup are Clark Wright and Bud Terry in the backfield, with W. Johnson and McGuire up front.

Franklin Coach Jim Uram's probable starters are: ends—Dill-man and Burchfield; tackles—Pat-terson and Snyder; guards—Baughner and Griffin; center—Porter; quarterback—Dozyro; half-backs—Burrell Ace and Brown; fullback—Dick Manson.

Famed Bowler to Present Exhibition Here Tonight

Warren area bowling enthusiasts will converge on the Penn Bowling Center tonight to watch one of the tenpin game's best artists in action.

He is Joe Wilman, of Chicago, who holds three ABC titles and is the only bowler in history ever to roll over 2000 twice in ABC competition.

Wilman also holds numerous other records, including a 10-year average for ABC competition of 206.02. He is the only man ever to finish among the first 10 in every division of the ABC in one tourney.

Wilman's exhibition will be staged at the Penn lanes, starting at 8:30 p. m. No admission will be charged.

Reserve Gridders to Play at Memorial

Warren Thirds, under Coach Joe Passaro, and Frank Kamus' Youngville Seconds played on Memorial Field yesterday afternoon in the form of a controlled scrimmage, keeping no score.

Both coaches stood behind their team as the gridders ran through offensive plays and then switched to the defense. The game was nicely played and offered each squad an opportunity to try out new plays.

At Sheffield yesterday the Warren Fourth received a 20-0 drubbing from the little Wolverines in a practice game. The local team was coached by Homer Barr.

Due to the excellent cooperation of many good people, business firms, press and radio, the ninth annual Kiwanis Club effort on behalf of Warren County's underprivileged children is once again highly successful. Warren Kiwanians, always alert to the fact that local fans like novelty, have a very pleasant surprise in store for us all next year. To Leo H. Ward, his Holling Press Debs and the Dunkirk Kochs must go the most credit for providing one of the best entertainment features in Warren's long sports history. The girls put on a great show and proved that the so-called weaker sex can play a brand of ball superior to most men; particularly was this true of Doris Forslund, the Debs star pitcher. This husky young lass put on an exhibition that had the fans in an uproar, mainly because she handled the ball in such fashion that her opponents were never certain just where it was coming from or how fast.

Special thanks to the Times-Mirror and Station WNAE—their help was invaluable. "Nick" Creola and "Charley" Musante were responsible for bringing together the two Junior League All-Star baseball teams which gave fans a special thrill and added much to the afternoon's enjoyment. While handing out plaudits, let us not forget those whose generosity was responsible for the fine programs handed out during the games. To genial "Don" McComas must go a lot of credit for a diplomatic ability many knew he possessed, yet few were aware of its potency. Special mention and thanks is also extended Joe Gardner. The Kiwanis Club gratefully acknowledges aid from the Times-Mirror staff and Ed Lowrey whose generous contribution of time and effort increases in crescendo as the years roll on.

Paul Harrington, this year's president of Warren Kiwanis Club, and the spark plug behind all its activity, wishes to take this opportunity again to thank everyone in anyway connected with the club's successful effort to help make life's rocky path smoother for a lot of underprivileged kids.

All-Girl Bagpipe Band Feature of Annual Field Days Program

Warren area residents have been privileged in the past several years to see several Canadian bagpipe musical organizations in action, but the Warren Field and Stream Club has come up with a new twist.

One of the features of the Annual Field Days program at Wilder field will be an all-girl Bagpipe Band.

The organization is the Heather Highlanders of Youngstown, Ohio. The unit is comprised of 15 girls, all of Scottish descent. The girls range in age from a 12-year-old to one married woman. It was organized three years ago and has been widely acclaimed wherever it has appeared.

The girls practice each Monday night, and two practices a week are scheduled during the summer months. The unit raises all its own money for uniforms, bagpipes and transportation. They wear the authentic Stewart of Athole tartan, and the uniforms, which were imported from Scotland and Canada, cost $275 each.

The Heather Highlanders have four directors. Ian MacCallum and Albert Moore serve as bagpipe instructors; John Hawitt drills the drummers; and James Craig, the drum major, works out the drills.

The Highlanders are scheduled for the Sunday afternoon program at the Field Days. They will stage their first drill at 1:30 p. m., and each hour thereafter during the afternoon.

Busy Weekend In Prospect for Area High School Squads

While Warren and Franklin High are squaring off for a District 10, Section 2 league match at Franklin tomorrow night, the other four teams in the grid loop—Oil City, Titusville, Meadville and Corry—will be playing independent scraps.

Oil City entertains Grove City Friday night; Meadville will be host to Farrell and Titusville travels to Millcreek. On Saturday night, the Corry Beavers entertain Youngville in a "Potato Bowl" game.

Sugar Grove Farmington's game this week also will be part of a community celebration. That team is slated to meet George Junior Republic of Grove City, at 4 o'clock Friday afternoon at Sugar Grove as a feature of the Sugar Grove community fair.

The Sheffield Wolverines play their first home game of the season on Saturday afternoon with Ridgway as the opponent.

Other games listed in the area for the weekend are:

Friday Night
Hickory at Greenville
Beaver Falls at Sharon
Sharpsville at Erie East
Zelenople at Mercer
Erie Prep at Conneaut, O.
Erie Tech at DuBois

Saturday Afternoon
Clarion at Brookville

PONY LEAGUE

It's down to the wire again for Olean, the Pony League pennant winners. Tonight the Oleaners face Hamilton in the deciding game of the semi-final playoffs.

The Cardinals evened the series at 3-3 last night by defeating Olean, 6-4, at Hamilton. Olean won the flag this year in a playoff game with Jamestown.

The winner of tonight's game at Olean will meet Hornell, who defeated Jamestown, 4-1, in the other semi-final series.

Dick Bayne won his 18th game for Hamilton by spacing eight hits. The Cards got three runs in the fourth inning on four hits and a walk off starter Bob Long. A throwing error by Long in the sixth helped Hamilton to two more runs. Joe Castel, Card first baseman, provided the extra cushion with a bases-empty home run in the seventh.

Cables laid in deep water are usually less than an inch thick.

BALL GLOVE LOST
Dick Hedman, one of the Hot Stove leaders working with the Bantam League, reported today that a fielder's glove was lost during the Bantam League playoff game at War Memorial Field. Anyone who might have found the glove is asked to call 5042-R-2.
